Resolution on CDC Guidance and Covid-19 Vaccination

Whereas the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is the national public health agency of the United States; and

Whereas the CDC's mission is to protect people through the control and prevention of disease, injury, and disability in the United States and worldwide; and

Whereas the CDC conducts research on infectious diseases such as Covid-19 and advises the public on precautionary measures to prevent and control the spread of Covid-19 and related variants; and

Whereas the CDC regularly updates guidance based on peer-reviewed scientific and medical research; therefore, be it
