Mission: The Department of Counseling and Psychology has the primary mission of offering strong academic programs in counseling and psychology that serve the community and public school system. The graduate program is designed to prepare people for careers in a variety of helping professions.

Program Evaluation Model by Astramovich and Coker (2007). Figure 1 below provides an illustration of Astramovich and Coker's model.

The Ph.D. program will conduct ongoing program planning throughout the year, beginning with the fall faculty retreat and culminating in the reporting process at the end of the spring semester. The Department of Counseling and Psychology had an annual retreat for departmental planning at the beginning of the academic year that serves as a catalyst for program planning. During this annual retreat, the Ph.D. program will discuss the program planning process, the requirements of CACREP accreditation, and the desired learning outcomes to be included for the academic year. The Ph.D. program has created an excel spreadsheet that offers a systematic program plan by means of a course map and learning outcomes associated with 10.6 (t)g (e)g wd i
